COMMENCEMENT WEEK

Opened Sunday at State College With Baccalaureate Sermon.

DELIVERED BY DR. COLFELT

Services in the New Auditorium—1500 Listen to Distinguished Divine Preach on The Gospel of Labor

GRADUATING CLASS NUMBERS 72

The forty-third annual Commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania State College opened Sunday under most auspicious circumstances. The event of the day of course was the baccalaureate sermon delivered by that distinguished Presbyterian divine Rev. Dr. Lawrence M. Colfelt, of Philadelphia. Although the building is not yet completed, the services were held in the new auditorium, erected through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab. This was the first service held in the new building and more than 1500 persons crowded the rooms to hear the sermon.

The Commencement this week was the most notable in the history of the College. The graduating class numbered seventy-two.

The dedication of the new auditorium on Tuesday was the big event of the week.

Other features of the week were the breaking of ground for the new Carnegie library and for the Agriculture building.

Dr. Colfelt took for his subject Sunday morning the "Spiritualization of Industry" with his text from Ezekial 1, 21: "For the Spirit of the living creatural was in the wheels."

He spoke in part as follows:

The prophet in this vision caught a glimpse of the epoch in which we are living. Never was the aspect of the world's work so fitly presented as now under the imagery of wheels.

But it is not the wonder and glory of the wheels that I would celebrate. The duty of the hour for all men and especially college bred men is to get the spirit in the wheels. My subject therefore is the "Spiritualization of Industry."

The poorest drudge that bears God's image is infinitely superior to the grandest piece ever conceived by human genius and has an inalienable right to justice, free action and mental opportunity. And when we realize this tremenduous human claim we will cease estimating the workingman from the surely selfish standpoint of the greatest amount of work he can do at the least cost and care, and we will be far on toward fraternity. The gulf between capital and labor will be speedily bridged.

The captains of industry who are destined to become the ranking order in the vast new system of social gradation are baited already by the social leaders who are being pushed from their pedestals as plutocratic barons, graced with no ethics but an enlightened selfishness and no refinement but that which is prompted by the instinct of ostentatious display.

But there is no reason why a man who transmutes his thoughts into railroads and factories and tunnels and bridges and mines and any production for man may not develop as refined a manhood as the man who puts his thoughts into paintings and statues and keramics.

The new type of man developed by the practical activities of the modern world will be the peer of any preceding type. He will be built four square. He will be broader and more harmonious in his development than the feudal, or artistic, or professional, or military type. Business properly pursued broadens the whole manhood.

The new type of man evolved by modern industrial pursuits, resting his manhood on the gigantic foundations of service to humanity, will be more of a gentleman—with a sounder heart, a more generous nature, a more refined mask, a fuller orbed personality—in a word, a gentleman such as past ages have never seen.

Sunday evening he preached to a large audience in the Presbyterian church at this place. His subject was "The Vanities of Life." His text was taken from 2nd Kings 23rd chapter and part of the 11th verse. "And he took away the horses that the Kings of Judea had given to the sun, and burned the chariots of the sun with fire."

The sermon was in Dr. Colfelt's usual eloquent and scholarly style and many beautiful and useful lessons can be drawn therefrom.

The choir rendered some special music of appropriate character.

Wedding at Carlisle.

The marriage of a young lady, a former resident of Bellefonte, was celebrated at the Indian school, Carlisle, on Thursday the 11inst., the bride being Miss Elizabeth Ettinger Forster, daughter of the late Major R. H. Forster, at one time editor of the Centre Democrat. We clip the following from the "Red Man and Helper" published at the school:

At eight o'clock Wednesday evening the ceremony that joined Mr. William Bigler Beitzel and Miss Elizabeth Ettinger Forster as man and wife took place in the beautifully decorated apartments of the bride in the teachers' quarters.

Rev. Luther DeYoe, Pastor of the Messiah Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, assisted by Rev. Dr. Norcross, Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Carlisle, were the officiating ministers, who performed the ceremony in the presence of about sixty friends and relatives.

Promptly on the minute the first notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march were played on the piano by Mrs. Glover, of Mifflinburg, an acceptable warning for guests to give way, which they did, forming an aisle, as they naturally stepped back.

Drs. De Yoe and Norcross led the procession from the entrace to Miss Steele's room to the white fur rug at the extreme south end of Miss Forster's room, in front of the spacious old-fashioned mantel and fire-place, now banked with grasses and daisies, producing a very pretty effect.

The ushers, Mr. Grishaber, of Harrisburg, and Mr. Glover, of Mifflinburg led the way for the bride and groom.

The impressive ring ceremony of the Lutheran church was used, and the solemnity of the occasion was marked, but lasted only a moment or two, when congratulations were in order, and a season of gaiety began.

The bride was dressed in gray silk crepe, trimmed with white lace applique, and carried a shower-bouquet of sweet pease and maiden-hair fern; always attractive now exceptionally so; The groom was attired in conventional black.

The rooms were decorated by friends at the school, and there was an array of handsome presents, all of which were greatly admired.

The wedding couple have gone to the sea-shore for a brief time and will return to reside at our school, where Mr. Beitzel is an esteemed member of Col. Pratt's clerical force. Mrs. Beitzel has been an honored member of the faculty as art teacher for a number of years.

The school is enjoying happy anticipations for future social events of which Mr. and Mrs. Beitzel will be the center.

Children's Day Services in the M. E. Church.

A most interesting and inspiring Children's Day service was held Sunday evening in the Methodist Episcopal church commencing at 6:30 o'clock. There was a large attendance of interested spectators.

An interesting program was presented interpersed with recitations of a beautiful character. The music was whole-so led and inspiring, the Sunday school choir being assisted by Smith's orchestra. The little people acquitted themselves well and received high praise. Rev. John A. Wood made an appropriate address.

The church was elaborately decorated with ferns, laurel and roses and all the decorations were a credit to the committee having charge of that part of the work.

The whole service was of a high order and the collection taken up for the Board of Education was good. Every one was well pleased with the work done.

Off For West Point.

Quite a number of the friends of James G. Taylor were at the station Friday morning to see him safely on his journey to West Point and wish him Godspeed. Mr. Taylor is the newly appointed cadet from this congressional district to Uncle Sam's famous military Academy on the Hudson. He is now entering on a four years course which will fit him for the position of an officer in the regular army.

He is an excellent young man in every particular and we have no fear but that we shall hear good reports of him wherever he may be in the future. May his career be an eminently successful one is the wish of his many Bellefonte friends.

He is a brother of Sheriff Hugh S. Taylor.

—On the last of this month there will take place a wedding, which will be quite a surprise to every body, both parties are from this place.

THE NEW AUDITORIUM

State College Gets Golden Key to Building Donated by the Schwabs.

IMPOSING CEREMONIES MARK EVENT

Steel Magnate Detained Sends Regrets—Ground Broken for New Agricultural Building—Graduation Exercises.

300 ATTEND ALUMNI LUNCHEON

The forty-third annual Commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania State College which closed Wednesday was the most important ever held by that institution and marks a new era in its history. Several weeks ago ground was broken for the new Carnegie library, and on Tuesday the beautiful new auditorium the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab was dedicated and ground was broken for a new Agricultural building.

The ceremonies incident to the dedication of the Schwab building were beautiful and imposing, and took place at 10 o'clock. The building stands north of the main College building, is of white press brick and marble, simple but impressive in architecture. It cost $200,000 and seats comfortably 1500 people. At Tuesday's exercises it was crowded to the doors, every seat being taken, many people being compelled to stand.

Until the last moment it was confidently expected that Mr. and Mrs. Schwab would be present but at the last minute they were unavoidably detained in New York and sent a telegram of regret. They were however, represented by his brother-in-law, Dr. N. H. Ward, of Pittsburg; W. D. Nixon, 2nd Vice President of the United States Steel Corporation and C. M. Baker, who represents the steel company in New York.

The exercises opened with prayer by Professor Benjamin Gill followed by the singing of "The Alma Mater". Eloquent addresses were delivered by Dr. Atherton, Rev. Colfelt and Mr. Dixon after which Dr. Ward on behalf of the donors made the presentation speech and tendered at the same time a golden key to the building. General James A. Beaver on behalf of the Board of Trustees made the speech of acceptance, who spoke in part as follows:

"There will be furnished to our community the facilities for hearing and profiting by what shall be uttered from this platform for the stimulus of the mind and the uplift of the higher nature of all those who shall seek to profit thereby. The audience now here present testifies of the appreciation of the generosity of our friends and for the first time in many years at this institution students and citizens are enabled to assemble together with comfort in a general function in which they are alike interested."

President Atherton then accepted the trust on the part of the College and spoke the words of dedication.

Prof. Fred Lewis Pattee read an original Dedication Ode which was very good but quite lengthy.

Resolutions and testimonials engrossed in sheepskin and enclosed in a beautifully engraved silver casket were presented to the Schwabs. F. P. Dodge on the part of the student body presented a loving cup to Mrs. Schwab.

The trustees elected were James Gilbert White, of New York; Dr. Lawrence M. Colfelt, Gen. James A. Beaver, Joel A. Herr and Gabriel Heister.

At noon Tuesday the annual Alumni luncheon was held in the Armory. Over 300 guests were present and Gen. Beaver was toastmaster. Dr. Colfelt made an address. H. P. Wood '99 spoke for the Alumni and F. H. Taylor for Class of 1903.

At 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon another important event took place. It was the breaking of ground for the new agricultural building, for which the legislature last winter appropriated $100,000. The building will cost $200,000 before it is finished and the next legislature it is hoped will appropriate the balance. Hon. John Hamilton presided at these exercises and Col. Hiram Young threw out the first shovel of dirt. The spade was publicly presented to him also a check for one cent for his services.

This is the first check drawn on the legislature's $100,000 appropriation. No doubt Col. Young will value this highly and it is safe to say will never have it cashed. He was paid at the rate of 15 cents per hour and it took him 4 minutes to do the work. Col. Young is President of the State Agricultural Society. Other speakers were W. F. Hill, Master of the State Grange, Gen. Beaver, President Atherton and Secretary N. B. Critchfield.

An exhibition drill was given on Beaver Field at 4 o'clock and the Thespians presented "A Night off" in the Auditorium Tuesday evening.

The Junior Oratorical Contest Monday night was won by John Donaldson Elder, of Elders Ridge. The prize was $25.00.

The Graduation exercises proper were held in the beautiful auditorium Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and in spite of the inclemency of the weather there was an immense attendance.

President Atherton presided and the music was furnished by the delightful Stopper & Fiske orchestra of Williamsport. After an invocation by Rev. Lawrence M. Colfelt D. D., five orations were delivered as follows:

"The Jury System"—Elmer H. Beckert.
"College Life"—Arthur R. Dennington.
"Unmentioned Heroes"—John H. Snyder.
"The Responsibility of the Press"—D. B. Tuholski.
Valedictory—Floyd Hamilton Taylor.

The annual Commencement address was delivered by Hon. Hampton L. Carson, Attorney General of Pennsylvania, who made a most eloquent and forceful speech teeming with good advice to the young students just about entering on the duties of life.

After this came the confering of degrees and the awarding of prizes the exercises closing with the singing of the Commencement hymn.

The class numbers 72 one of the largest in the history of the College. Those from Centre county are as follows: James Joseph Markle, State College; Peter Hoffer Dale, Centre Hall; Helen Dale Musser, State College; George Oscar Gray, State College; Effie Christina Supera Snyder, State College; Robert Usher Watson, Lemont; John Rockey Decker, Zion; Harold Gray Glenn, State College.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Miss Belle Sager, Age 14, Dragged by Caboose on C. R. R. of Pa.

Thursday morning about 7 o'clock Miss Belle Sager, age 14 was struck by a caboose while walking along the track of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and dragged some distance, sustaining severe injuries to her right leg.

The accident happened just this side of the Bellefonte Furnace siding. Miss Sager and two other girls, Miss Knaar and Miss Cramer, were on their way from their homes at Pleasant View to the Bellefonte Shirt factory where they are employed. Extra freight in charge of Engineer Edward Whittaker and Conductor Harry Winton was coming down the track from the station. The engine cut loose from the caboose some distance up the track, it being the intention to leave the caboose on the main track while the engine ran back to the furnace for some cars.

The girls stepped off the track for the engine and not noticing the approaching caboose Miss Sager, stepped back on the track when the caboose struck her and dragged her some distance. Fortunately it did not run over her, but her limb was badly bruised and at first it was feared it was crushed. She was taken to the Bellefonte hospital where it was at first feared an amputation would be necessary.

Miss Sager is the daughter of Isaac Sager and lives down at Pleasant View. She is 14 years of age. She bore up heroically under the accident and it is sincerely hoped she may soon recover without the necessity of losing a limb.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The Business Which Demanded the Attention of the Boro Fathers.

The regular semi-monthly session of the borough council met Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Both President Cunningham and the clerk, Mr. William T. Kelly were absent, the latter through sickness. Those present were Reynolds, Jenkins, Mallory, Wise, Whittaker, Kirk and Fenlon.

In the absence of President Cunningham the chair was filled by Col. Reynolds as president pro tem. Harry Fenlon was selected to act as clerk.

The minutes of the previous regular meeting were read and after a few trifling corrections were approved. The minutes of the special meeting were read and approved.

William Walker asked permission to work on streets during Carnival week.

Burgess Walker stated that the stable owned by P. Gray Meek which council desired for a pond was not repaired in shape for use. He also has on foot a proposition for a new lock-up. Robert Cole, the architect has drawn up a plan and specification for such building, and Col. Pruner will furnish the money on the same conditions as did Mr. Cride for the Public building. No motion was taken.

Nothing of importance was brought out by the report of the committees.

Dr. Kirk moved seconded by Mr. Fenlon that a sewer be built along South Water street. It was so ordered.

In regard to the wall on Water street, Boro Solicitor Fortney offered some advice. The street should be filled in and raised. The grade of the street should be ascertained. We might damage property by going ahead without due examination.

Mr. Fenlon was in favor of going ahead under the present instructions to the Street committee adopted at last meeting. Chairman Reynolds stated that unless council wished to reconsider their previous action it would remain in the hands of the Street committee to go ahead and do the work. And so the matter stands. In the mean time the people who travel this road will continue to tramp through the mud for some time to come, unless the Street Committee acts.

The request of Mr. Walker for permission to run a game on the streets during the Carnival was referred to the Burgess for disposal.

The report of the Finance committee was as follows:

Nelson Grubb Badly Hurt.

Nelson Grubb an industrious, ambitious young man employed by the Bellefonte Central Railroad Company met with a serious accident on Monday afternoon which meant the losing of his right arm above the elbow. The facts of the case are as follows. Young Grubb had been working for this company as one of their trackmen and they found in him a good workman and promoted him to a brakeman which position he accepted the morning he was hurt. While he was in the act of coupling some cars he was caught between the bumpers and the right arm was badly crushed which made it necessary to amputate the same above the elbow. The accident occurred at the scales near Coleville, and he was brought to the Bellefonte hospital where the amputation was performed.

VIOLATES STRIKE AWARD

SAY THEY'RE NOT ENTITLED TO IT

Claim Award Specifies Increase Shall Be Computed On "Average" Price, Which Is Less Than $4.55—Mitchell to Attend Convention.

Scranton, Pa., June 12.—Failure on the part of the operators to pay the 2 per cent. increase in wages for May, which the miners claim is due them under the provisions of the sliding scale, is one of the matters, other than the selection of conciliators, which will likely engage the attention of the convention of the United Mine Workers, which opens in this city Monday.

The strike commission awarded that "for each increase of five cents in the price of white ash coal of sizes above pea coal sold at or near New York, between Perth Amboy and tidewater, above $4.50 per ton f. o. b., that employes shall have an increase of 1 per cent. in their compensation, which shall continue until a change in the average price of said coal works a reduction or an increase."

Coal is now selling on a "$5 circular." April 1 last the price was $4.50, the basis on which the sliding scale computations are to be made. May 1 an advance of ten cents a ton on the circular price was made. This on the face of it would entitle the mine workers to an additional increase in wages of 2 per cent. None of the companies have granted the additional increase, and the miners are intending to find the reason for this.

An operator who was asked for an explanation of the companies' apparent neglect to live up to the award of the commission in this regard stated that he had not heard the matter discussed, but believed there are a number of very good reasons why the increase is not forthcoming Chief among them he said is the fact that the miners are not entitled to it. The award specifies that the increase shall be computed on the "average" price of the prepared sizes and not the circular price. The circularia price has been advanced ten cents, but the average price is still less than $4.55, according to the report of Statistician W. W. Ruley, of Philadelphia, who is employed especially to figure and report the average price to buyer and seller, or rather operator and carrier, that it may be possible to compute the 65-35 division of proceeds. Another reason given is that the commissioner provided for in the award who is to do the figuring on which the sliding scale fluctuations are to be computed was not appointed until yesterday. He is Professor Charles P. Neill, of Washington, D. C., and was appointed by Judge Gray.

District President Nicholls said he knew of no other matter of any considerable importance that would divide attention with the matter of conciliators at the convention. The delegates are free to transact general business, however, and it may be he said that other matters will come up.

A letter was received by President Nicholls today from National President Mitchell at Indianapolis, in which he says he will arrive here Monday morning.

Mitchell Will Attend Miners' Picnic.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12.—President John Mitchell, Secretary W. B. Wilson, of the United Mine Workers, and S. M. Sexton, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, left for Pennsylvania, where all will address a picnic of the miners at Arnot, Pa., tomorrow.

ACCOUNTANT APPOINTED

Prof. C. P. Neill to Compute Average Price of Anthracite Coal.

Philadelphia, June 12.—The following announcement was made at the office of George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company:

Under the eight award of the late Anthracite Coal Strike Commission, providing for a sliding scale of wages for miners and mine workers, based on the average price of white ash coal of sizes above pea coal, sold at or near New York and reported to the Bureau of Anthracite Coal Statistics, it was provided that

"These average prices shall be computed monthly by an accountant or commissioner named by one of the Circuit Judges of the Third judicial circuit of the United States and paid by the coal operators such compensation as the appointing Judge may fix, which compensation shall be distributed among the operators in proportion to the tonnage of each mine."

Written application having been presented to Judge Gray, Circuit Judge of the Third jjudicial circuit of the United States, he appointed Professor Charles PP. Neill, of Washington, D. C., commissioner, as provided for in the paragraph of the award above referred to.

Daniel Bante of Otterville, Iowa, writes, "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. The attendance, while somewhat broken by sickness was upon the whole, better than that of last year. Generally speaking, this has been an exceptionally good school year. There has been less of friction from whatever source, than heretofore; less of outside interference, less interruption of the regular schedule, there has been more earnestness on the part of teachers; and more purpose on the part of pupils to benefit by their opportunities.

During the year the High School curriculum was strengthened and enriched in the languages so that, lacking solid geometry, the general course of study for the High School is now well ordered, and another year of the same good strong work in arithmetic by the Grammar Grades will so shape the work in mathematics as to make it possible to take on solid geometry. And this will be needful if we would keep up with the requirements of secondary schools.

I wish, however, at this point again to urge upon the Board the importance of giving some attention to establishing a Commercial Department in connection with the work of the High School. I am strongly of the opinion that such a course of study would prove at once to be most popular and beneficial, and while the cost of instituting the work might at first seem considerable yet I feel confident that the results would fully justify the expenditure. Furthermore, I believe that more than enough would be realized from tuition to meet the cost of renting and furnishing a room in which to carry on the work.

We always have in our High School, young people who are called upon to make the best possible preparation in the least time possible for the serious business of life. These as a rule, can ill afford to give the extra time and meet the additional expense required to secure special training at some commercial school in direct preparation for their life work. Then still again, with the curriculum limited and unyielding, there are always a few young persons who while earnest in an effort to master the work as laid down to them, find the higher branches of study in the last years of the course too burdensome for a thorough mastery. These pupils worry along for a time, then overcome by discouragements they drop out more harmed than helped by their final school experiences for now they have lost confidence in their own ability to do. Very much of this trouble arises not so much from any real fault with the course of study in itself, but rather from the fact that the pupil is unable to see any application of the theory, as taught in the subjects over which he has worried away so much time, to the problems in practical life. Now, if these same pupils were given an opportunity to pursue a course of study which would appeal to them more strongly from the view point of utility and practicalness they would very generally round to in such a way as to acquire a substantial learning power immediately upon leaving the public school.

The opportunity for a right start in life, fortified, of course, by good habits, usually makes for success and against failure and no High School will have done its full duty to its boys and girls unless it shall insure to them an equal chance with their fellows in striving for position and preferment when they shall have come to take their places in active life.

In conclusion, I desire to thank the members of the Board for their hearty and earnest support and sympathy, and the corps of teachers for their kind co-operation in the effort to advance the educational interest of our boys and girls.

Respectfully submitted,

David O. Etters.

A Chapter of Accidents Which Occured During Storm at State College

During the heavy electrical storm on Wednesday afternoon about 1 o'clock lighting struck the brick farm house on the farm owned by Hon. John T. McCormick and located two miles west of State College, and occupied by his son-in-law F. P Corl.

The bolt struck the roof tearing off three rafters, leaving not a brick standing in the chimneys and going down through to the first story badly wrecking the interior and upsetting the stoves. The house is so badly damaged that it will have to be thoroughly overhauled and repaired. The property loss is estimated at $300.

The occupants were in an out kitchen at the time the lighting struck the house and thereby fortunatly escaped injury.

ALL IN A FLASH.

During a heavy electrical storm Monday afternoon at State College quite a chapter of accidents took place.

Mail Carrier Weaver was out in his wagon delivering mail on Rural Free Delivery route No 1 when his horse frightened at the vivid flashes of lightning, ran away smashed up the wagon and scattered the mail along the road. Mr. Weaver fortunately escaped injury.

Nearby on the farm of William Everhart, two team of horses were in a field plowing Both ran away and considerable damage ensued. A boy named Edward Mulbarger narrowly escaped being run over.

At the same time Andrew Lytle was riding on horseback over his farm. The horse became frightened ran away and threw Mr. Lytle off, but he was not injured.

A Distinguished Visitor.

Many of our citizens who passed the Bush House Friday evening, wondered at the cause of so much excitement in front of the office. We made inquiry and learned that it was simply a reception of an informal character, tendered Hon. Thomas W. Myton of Huntingdon, by the surviving members of Company H. 148 Regiment, P. V. I.

The personnel of the assembly, to the observer, had the appearance of veterans who had seen active service during the war of the Rebellion. The distinguished guest having lost an arm in the Battle of Chancellorsville in 1863. Major D. W. Woodring who was present had also lost an arm in the same engagement. Gen. Geo. A. Bayard, who was the original Captain of the Company, presents the appearance of a sieve, having been literally riddled with bullets. Dr. Geo. A. Fairlamb Major of the Regiment has never recovered from the effects of wounds received in that and other terrible battles. Capt. Herman K. Miller, who was so severely wounded, as to cause the loss of most of his hair, formed one of the group, and Lieut. Col. H. H. Montgomery whose body is covered with honorable scars, took pleasure in recounting some of his marvelous escapes from death.

To the writer, the conversation was interesting, though at times it taxed our credulity to accept for gospel all that was said, but these old comrades had fought their battles ouer so often, that they almost believed the stories they told were actual facts. We did learn however, that but for the fighting qualities of this Regiment the war would never have closed successfully for the union.

Gen. Myton is now a prominent member of the Huntingdon County Bar, and has represented that County in the State Legislature. We found him an intelligent and agreeable gentleman, and he told us the object of his visit was to collect material for a history of the gallant 148th, which when completed, will be interesting reading long after these heroes lie peacefully beneath the sod.

We will just add that this Regiment which did such valuable service in the Union cause, had for its Colonel at one time, our distinguished citizen Ex-Governor James A. Beaver.

Death Dealing Lightning.

Lightning came as a terrific and deadly surprise into the Corsia academy, at Brookville, during a furious electric storm Tuesday afternoon.

The students had gathered in the big recitation room, when a terrific bolt of lightning struck the belfry and descending through the ceiling, ran along the blackboard, at which some of the more courageous were still at work, hurling them to the floor. Lulu Mullen, aged 18 years and Bessie Kelso aged 15 years, were killed and those in the room who were badly burned or shocked by the death bolt were Prof. C. D. Carrier, Carrie Cummings, Kitty McKinley and Annie McGill.

The two dead girls had all their clothing burned. The girls who lost their lives were daughters of prominent citizens.

—During the summer kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being overheated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure. C. M. Parrish.

HICKOK—COCHRAN.

W. O. Hickok III, Weds the Daughter of Senator Cochran.

William Orville Hickok III, of Harrisburg, and Miss Avir Cochran, daughter of Senator and Mrs. J. Henry Cochran, were married in Trinity Episcopal church at Williamsport, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. G. C. Foley, D. D. The church was beautifully decorated and society folks were out in force. Both the bride and groom are well known in Bellefonte having visited here.

Organist Daniel played the wedding chorus form Lohengrin when the bridal party entered. Miss Helen Cochran, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor Mrs. Robert McKelvey was also matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Miriam Bucher, of Lewisburg; Miss Martha McCormick; Miss Louise Hickok, of Harrisburg, sister of the groom; Miss Cornelia Campell, of Altoona; Miss Mabel Harrison and Mrs. Charles Cochran. The groom was attended by his brother, Charles Hickok. The ushers were Dr. Staige Davis, of Baltimore; Richard Armstrong, of Hampton, Va.; Charles Brady, of Pittsburg; Richard Haldeman, of Pittsburg; Reuben Thayer, of Buffalo; W. O. Hickok IV., of Pittsburg; Orville Schell, Frank Smith and Ross Hickok, of Harrisburg, Senator Cochran gave away the bride.

Charming gowns were worn by the ladies. The bride's was of lace over satin and she carried a boquet of lilies of the valley. The maids' gown were of white batiste, the distinguishing feature between the maid of honors gowns and those of the other maids being that instead of a green sash such as the maids wore, the maid of honor wore a long white sash. She carried a round boquet of malden hair ferns and white sweet peas. The maids carried shower boquets of the same thus carrying out the color scheme of green and white.

The Cochran residence was a scene of splendor when the reception occurred there at the close of the wedding. The bridal table was set in the dining room and was decorated with white bridal roses. The guests were served refreshments on the wide piazzas which were shut in by canvas and beautifully decorated. American flags predominating. The lawn was illuminated by electric lights encased in Japenese lanterns. The Stopper and Fisk orchestra discoursed music.

The bride presented her maids with pearl coronet pins and the groom presented the ushers with studs. Mr. Hickok presented Miss Cochran with a magnificent diamond pendant, while her present to him is a set of pearl studs. The presents received by the bride were all princely gifts.

Distinguished guests from other cities were numbered in the large throng at the reception, among them being the following: Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Beatty, of Harrisburg; Miss Jean Stone, of Pittsburg; Edward Marshal, of Harrisburg; Colonel G. G. Hunt, of Carlisle; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Orth, of Harrisburg, Mr. McKelvey, of Titusville; Senator and Mrs. William C. Sproul, of Chester; Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lambert, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. William B. Given, of Columbia; Superintendent Cleve, of the Crescent division of the Pennsylvania, and wife, of Crescent; Superintendent and Mrs. Creighton, of Altoona; State Senator Hagenberg; Phil. Meredith, of Harrisburg, and ex-Congressman Horace B. Packer.

After a tour of a month's duration Mr. and Mrs. Hickok will go to Harrisburg to reside.

CHILL WINDS

Are the dread of those whose lungs are "weak." Some fortunate people can follow the summer as it goes southward, and escape the cold blasts of winter and the chill airs of spring. But for the majority of people this is impossible.

Family cares and business obligations hold them fast.

"Weak" lungs are made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures the obstinate cough, heals the inflamed tissues, stops the hemorrhage, and restores the lost flesh to the emaciated body.

"I am a railroad agent," writes I. B. Staples, Esq., of Barclay, Osage Co., Kans., "and four years ago my work keeping me in a warm room and stepping out frequently into the cold air gave me bronchitis, which became chronic and deep seated. Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air, but, fortunately for me, a friend also advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I commenced taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and by the time I had taken the first bottle I was better, and after taking about four bottles my cough was entirely gone. I have found no necessity for seeking another climate."

Sometimes a dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines, will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery."

You get the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, the best medical work ever published, free by sending stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound volume, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MOB FOUGHT WAY INTO PALACE

Cannon Were Fired As Signal For Carnage to Begin, and Troops Simultaneously Attacked the Palace and Ministerial Residences — Alexander's Coup d'Etat Said to Have Hastened the Crisis.

Belgrade, June 12.—A military conspiracy which subsequent events shows had the sympathy of the majority of the Servian people was carried out early yesterday morning, and King Alexander, Queen Draga, the queen's two brothers, Premier Markovitch, the minister of war, two aides-de-camp and two other officers were assassinated.

Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, the pretender to the throne, has been proclaimed king by the army, and there is every reason to believe that this decision will be confirmed by the Servian parliament.

Dissatisfaction against King Alexander's rule has been accentuated since his suspension of the constitution last April, and it is from that time that the military plot dates. The organization of the bloody deed was carried out with consummate skill. The king for the past two months was thrown off his guard by the apparent quietude of the reception of his recent coup d'etat. In the meantime the conspirators had decided on June 10 as the date for the execution of the revolution, for two reasons: Firstly, it was the anniversary of the murder of King Alexander's grand uncle Michael, and, secondly, because it was feared that further delay would permit the skupschina (Servian parliament) to settle the question of succession to the throne according to the king's wishes, and it was believed that the brother of the hated queen would be his choice.

The prime movers in the plot were Ljubomir Schiokovics and Vojislav Velikovics, who have entered the new cabinet as ministers of justice and finance despectively.

Early in the morning the Sixth and Seventh regiments were called to arms and were led to the royal palace, which they entirely surrounded. A band of 30 officers, led by Colonel Maschin and Colonel Mischics, forced their way into the palace, shooting all who attempted to bar their passage. They were aided by treason within. The aide-de-camp on duty, Colonel Naumovics, had been won over by the conspirators and was entrusted with the plans for action within the royal enclosure. Several doors leading to the royal apartments were blown in by dynamite, Colonel Naumovics himself bursting in the door of the royal bedchamber with a bomb. The officers had called on the king to open, but he had curtly refused. As the door fell the king rushed to a window and appealed for assistance, but no answer came. Realizing the situation, he returned to the queen, holding her in his arms to protect her, and awaited the conspirators.

Colonel Naumovics and the officers then entered the room. Naumovics presented to the king a form of abdication for his signature. The document contained the statement that by marrying a "public prostitute the king had degraded Servia and that he must abdicate. The king's answer was to draw a revolver and kill Colonel Naumovics on the spot. Colonel Mischics picked up the document and presented it again. King Alexander waved it from him. The officers then, with drawn revolvers, fired a hail of bullets, and the ropal couple hail of bullets, and the royal couple fell together.

The bodies of the king and queen were thrown from their bedroom window into the yard. King Alexander was shot through the neck at the first fire, and the rush of blood suffocated him. Queen Draga received several shots, and after she was dead the regicides slashed her body with their swords and thrust it through and through. The rugs in the royal chamber were soaked with blood, which flowed over the floors. The window hangings were torn down and trampled under foot, the windows broken and the objects of art shattered in wanton destruction. The murderers afterwards embraced and congratulated one another on the success of the plot, and announced joyfully to those below that the king and queen had been disposed of.

The residence of the queen's brothers, near the palace, was completely wrecked. When the brothers, says the correspondent, were lying dying from their shot wounds they kissed each other. The ministers who were killed met their death at their homes, and in some instances the attacks on them were made in the presence of the members of their families who had run in.

The mob, made thirsty by their taste of blood, then made their way to the apartments of the premier and the commander of the king's guard. Both, with their wives, were shot down in cold blood.

A new government was formed, as follows:

Ljubohur Kalievitch, foreign minister.

Stojan Protics, minister of the interior.

George Genshics, minister of commerce.

General Jorvan Alanazkovitch, minister of war.

Vojislav Velikovitch, minister of finance.

Colonel Alexander Machin, minister of public works.

Ljubomir Schiokovitch, minister of justice.

The new ministry published the following statement:

"Certain difficulties which arose at court have led to the intervention of the army and a conflict in which the king and queen lost their lives.

"With a view to maintaining peace and order in the country the representatives of all the political parties have come to an understanding and formed a provisional government in order to reestablish the constitution existing before March 23, 1903, and to reassemble the representatives elected under the constitution of April, 1901.

"At a sitting to be held on June 15, the national representatives will elect a sovereign and assume control of the situation. According to the reports received from the civil and military authorities order has not been disturbed in any part of the country and the government will take steps to maintain it. The government feels convinced that by acting thus it will ensure for the new order of things the sympathies of all the European powers."

The city of Belgrade, after the assassination of the monarchs, quickly returned to a state of comparative quiet. While immense crowds were gathered in the streets discussing the news and arguing the right and wrong of the revolutionists' acts there were no signs of further disturbances.

The general public, who have been lashed by the whip of Alexander's intolerant and high-handed way of carrying things his own way, did not appear to feel any particular sorrow for his untimely end, but generally expressed a feeling of relief.

PRETENDER GOING TO BELGRADE

Prince Declares Himself Innocent of Knowledge of Tragedy.

Geneva, June 12. — Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, whom the Servian army has proclaimed king, has been living in Geneva since 1891. He appeared greatly astonished on receiving the news from Belgrade, which he said had reached him through a private telegram from Vienna.

He said he had not yet received any official notice regarding the events which took place in Belgrade. He did not even know whether it was true that he had been proclaimed king, and he said he did not know when or whether he would start for Belgrade. The new ministry, he added, included several of his adherents, but he was unable to speak definitely on this subject, as a number of names had been mutilated in telegraphic transmission.

The Russian consul, an intimate friend of Prince Karageorgevitch, made the following statement:

"Prince Karageorgevitch declares himself innocent of any knowledge of the tragedy at Belgrade. He said that through his grandfather he undoubtedly had the best right to the Servian throne, and intended taking it if possible for the sake of his son, but he expected to meet with great difficulties and hoped for assistance from Austria."

From other sources it is learned that the prince left secretly this morning for Vienna, whence he will proceed to Belgrade. Rumors have been current here for three days of expected trouble in Servia, and Prince Karageorgevitch has been receiving an enormous quantity of telegrams for a week past, many of them from the frontier of Servia.

Russian money was undoubtedly used in the revolution, which, according to general belief, was planned here.

ASK FOR RECEIVERS

United States Shipbuilding Company Charged With Insolvency.

Trenton, N. J., June 12. — Judge Kirkpatrick in the United States circuit court at his chambers in Newark made an order returnable in Trenton next Monday for cause to be shown why a receiver should not be appointed for the United States Shipbuilding Company. The application was made by Roland B. Conklin and others, who charge that the company is insolvent and who also allege fraud in connection with its incorporation and management. The company was organized about a year ago, with an authorized capital of $20,000,000 and with a provision for a bond issue of $16,000,000, of which $9,000,000 was to be underwritten by a trust company.

It is charged by Conklin and his co-suitors that the properties acquired were worth nothing like $20,000,000, and that the earning capacity was only $1,000,000, an amount insufficient to pay the company's fixed charges. It is also charged that by reason of a secret agreement between Lewis Nixon and Charles M. Schwab the shipbuilding company purchased from Schwab the works of the Bethlehem Steel Company for $40,000,000, and that this afforded Schwab a profit of $27,000,000. The purchase price paid is averred to have been exorbitant.

ACCOUNTS SHORT $230,000

Bessemer, Ala., Bank President Disappears After Confessing.

Birmingham, Ala., June 12.—With President T. J. Cornwall in parts unknown and short nearly $230,000, the Bessemer Savings Bank, one of the strongest institutions in the district, closed its doors and asked for a receiver.

In one, addressed to the public, he says that he lost the money trying to make back $42,000 he lost in a legitimate business transaction. He further exonerates all the officers of the bank and takes the whole blame on himself.

In a letter to his wife he stated that he would not commit suicide. In a third letter, addressed to Cashier Cockrell, he states that he had nothing left for him to do but "wander on the face of the earth or become a convict in the mines."

Confederate Graves Decorated.

Columbus, O., June 12.—The graves of 2260 Confederate dead were strewn with flowers at Camp Chase in the presence of representative Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy and prominent men who fought on the other side. The services were held for the first time at Camp Chase under the auspices of Robert E. Lee Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. In answer to an appeal recently issued by General Gordon, several dozen boxes of magnolias and roses and wreaths made of evergreen and moss arrived from chapters in the South.

FIERCE STRUGGLE FOR LIFE

One Life Lost By Wrecking of Schooner Off Maine Coast.

Portland, Me., June 15.—One life was lost by the wrecking of the new five-masted schooner Washington B. Thomas, of Thomaston, Me., on Stratton's Island, four miles off Old Orchard, while bound with 4000 tons of soft coal from Norfolk, Va., for Portland.

The Thomas, with a crew of 14 men, was anchored Friday night off Stratton Island, and at midnight drifted from her anchorage onto the island. Without a moment's warning there came a crash as the schooner went on the rocks. Mrs. Lermond, her stepson and the first mate's son were in the cabin, but took refuge on the roof of the deck house. Her husband and the crew protected her as well as they could, but nothing could withstand the fearful seas, and she was forced to return to the cabin. The rushing waters broke the bulkhead separating the stateroom from the saloon partition, knocking Mrs. Lermond senseless. Captain Lermond tried to drag his wife to the companion way, but the inrushing floods swept her from his grasp, and she was lost in the darkness. The captain and the two boys worked their way to the forecastle, expecting that everybody forward had been lost, but found all safely sheltered there, although badly bruised and injured in their struggle for life.

The men were all taken off by a crew from the Cape Elizabeth life saving station and a number of volunteers, the work being most hazardous.

Another Automobile Victim.

Philadelphia, June 13. — Philip R. Theobold, a noted dealer in horses, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident last Saturday, died at his home at Glenside, a suburb of this city. Mr. Theobold and his son were riding in an automobile, when the machine ran away and the occupants were thrown out, badly injuring the elder Theobold. He was 53 years of age and leaves an estate valued at a million dollars.

THE SYSTEM LIVES On Good Rich Blood.

People who Lack the Proper Quantity and Quality of Blood Fall Victims to Every Disease that's Prevalent.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

By Their Power to Make Good Rich, Red, Oxygen Carrying Blood Insures the Proper Nourishment of Every Tissue, Every Organ in the Body and an Absolute Immunity from Disease.

The blood is the medium through which every tissue, every organ is supplied with the material it feeds upon and rebuilds itself with. Take away that nourishment by letting the blood run down in quantity and quality and you take away the power of an organ or tissue to resupply waste or rebuild itself. In other words the system starves, color, appetite, steadiness, energy, vigor, vitality, all are lost and a condition of mental and physical prostration sets in. This condition the Dr. A. W. Chase Pills positively cure by their power to manufacture good rich, nutritious oxygen carrying blood, a blood that carries to every organ the very material it lives and thrives upon.

Miss Elsa Fasler, of No. 43 Main st., Oneonta, N. Y., says: "Last summer I was in bad shape—all run down in health—no appetite and poor digestion—I did not sleep well and felt tired and languid all day. I was pale and the circulation was poor—I doctored all summer with no improvement. Seeing Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills recommended I got a box and used them and they thoroughly cured me—no more dullness or headaches—sleep sound and refreshing—appetite good—digestion perfect—blood rich—circulation good—color excellent, in fact vigorous and strong in every way. I can't speak too highly of the medicine as it certainly is a good one."

EDITORIAL.

OUR Philipsburg correspondent remembered us with an interesting letter this week. Let us hear from you often.

"No, Maud dear," said George in response to his sweetheart's questions the other evening, "The Mr. Swab who is the head of the Billion-Dollar Steel Trust and who was to have addressed the College students, is not the author of the Swaboba physical culture system."

THE prolonged season of drought has at last been broken by frequent rains, but it may be that the rainfall has come too late to be of much help to growing crops which have withered in some places by the blight. It is a matter for regret that the honest sons of toil are to again suffer financial loss by reason of the failure of their crops. A bountiful harvest this year would have recouped them for the loss sustained the previous summer by the drought, but it seems that such is not to be.

THE refrain of "Annie Moore, Sweet Annie Moore," had scarcely drifted beyond the breakers, where kind and loving friends knew it no more, until "Dolly Gray" sprung into popular favor, but only to give way to the bright, breezy and tuneful "Good Old Summer Time," which, like its predecessors, has served its mission and is on the wane. Perhaps it will only be a short time before some energetic composer will throw this rag-time age into renewed rapture and merriment by a fresh composition.

TRAGEDY OF TOO MUCH PLEASURE.

Nothing can be more fatal to the career of a young man just budding into manhood than the acquisition of dishonest attributes. Shiftless, dissolute and worldly habits should be shunned as one would turn aside from an adder. Like the viper, vice fastens its poisonous fangs upon the minds and hearts of young men, sucking the life-blood of its victims. One alternative brings its victim to a swift, specific end, while the other moves more slowly but inexorably to perform its ghastly mission. Evil companions, coarse associates and vile inclinations only add fuel to the flames which eventually envelop the victim in disgrace and ruin.

What can be more pathetic than a young man starting out in life with the fervent wishes of an indulgent father; with the sweet remembrance of a mother's kiss fresh upon his lips and surrounded by environments which should have held him firmly to an honest life, falling by the wayside. It becomes the cause for more poignant sorrow whenever such a case is brought home to a community which had previously reposed its confidence in the erring youth. At first many, instead of believing evil of the person accused, are prone to disbelieve the allegation until confronted by overwhelming proof of continued misdoing. Then they accept the situation, however unwilling the truth may be.

Theft is essentially wrong—whether it is the larceny of an employer's hours or whether it is the abstracting of a few dollars from the open money drawer. The rascality may be concealed for a time, but let the pilferer rest assured that he will be eventually found out. Crime is its own detection. However securely a person may guard his stealing with stealth at the outset, he gradually becomes more and more brazen as time wears on, and emboldened by his success in the past, a reckless disregard of consequences reveals his peculations to the world.

A proprietor of a large business house had his attention directed to the habits and life of a young man in whom the concern for years had reposed confidence. The young man is keeping late hours, spending money with a lavish hand, frequenting clubs and boasting of undesirable conquests. Detectives are employed; a watch is kept with reuslts which, if known, would become startling revelations, involving not only the good name of the young man in question, but also that of companions. There is nothing left for the employer to do but summon the young man into his private office, confront him with his guilt and summarily dismiss him. It is a sad and unwelcome task to perform, but the employer's part is peremptory. The house's good name is at stake and its integrity must ever remain inviolate. In many cases prosecutions are not made out of consideration of family ties.

Thus the tragedy of too much pleasure is often enacted and the guilty parties are left to the judgment of their own consciences.

WHY OUR COUNTY INSTITUTE GOES TO PHILIPSBURG.

When we first heard that the County Teachers' Institute was to go to Philipsburg this year instead of Bellefonte we naturally were not favorable to the project. But this was wholly a selfish view to take of the matter and after a little thought we feel that Superintendent C. L. Gramley deserves praise instead of condemnation for this act on his part in giving to our pretty little neighboring town across the mountain an opportunity to entertain this honorable body of men and women.

Our contemporary, the Centre Democrat, whose editor has on several occasions allowed his personal spite to bias his judgment in discussing public affairs, makes an unjust, untrue and wholly unwarranted attack on Superintendent Gramley for his action in this matter. It insinuates that some sort of a deal existed between the Superintendent and Philipsburg whereby he was re-elected to his present position. Superintendent Gramley is serving his fourth term as County Superintendent and the honorable record he has made is sufficient refutation of this silly charge.

The Centre Democrat also insinuates that Superintendent Gramley is electioneering for another term. Now, we are so confident that this is false that without consulting Prof. Gramley we take the liberty of denying it and branding it as a base fabrication.

The fact of the matter is, the whole attack of the Centre Democrat is the result of personal grudge which its editor has worked up in his little head against a man whose shoe latchets he is not fit to tie. We apologize to our readers for taking up so much of their time with Mr. Kurtz.

Why should not Philipsburg have the Institute this year? Our teachers have been holding institutes for the past fifty years and this is the first time in its history that Philipsburg gets it. The 53 teachers on the mountain have been coming to Bellefonte and elsewhere all this time and it will do no harm for the balance to go to the mountain this time. The minority is certainly deserving of recognition once in fifty years.

Because the Institute goes to Philipsburg this year does not say it must go there always. Bellefonte can only blame herself for losing it this time. Of late years she has not given it the support it deserves. We learn that Philipsburg has guaranteed to purchase 250 course tickets for the lectures to be given during the Institute; quite a contrast to Bellefonte, for by careful inquiry we understand that the highest number we ever guaranteed was 31 and the lowest 26. This should be a lesson to Bellefonte and in the future when she has a good thing perhaps she will appreciate it better.

Strong influence was brought to bear on Mr. Gramley to hold the Institute this year at Philipsburg and the majority of the teachers are very enthusiastic over the project.

A lazy liver may be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. A stick is all right for the back of a lazy man. But it would be a savage as well as a stupid thing to beat a weary man or a starving man becaus he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging liver it is a great mistake to lash it with drastic drugs. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred a torpid or sluggish liver is but a symption of an ill-nourished body, whose organs are weary with overwork. Let your liver alone. Start with the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition Put them in proper working order, and see how quickly your liver will become active and energetic. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of liver" trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE

To disprove facts. It is decidedly easy to verify Bellefonte opinion.

Nothing by way of introduction could be added to the experience and opinions given below, which could increase their value. Bellefonte people can safely be left to draw their own conclusions based on such convincing proof as this citizen offers. What is there lacking in evidence like this to satisfy a dyed-in-the-wool doubting Thomas?

Walter Whippo of Water street leading horse shoer of Bellefonte says: "I have a good word to say for Doan's Kidney Pills I was miserable with backache and lameness across my loins. I knew it was from my kidneys for I had suffered from it prior to that. Sometimes I could hardly straighten after bending forward which greatly interfered with my work. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills procured them at F. Potts Green's drug store and began using them. I had taken other medicines and worn plasters but I never had anything act as promptly as Doan's Kidney Pills I have been quite free from the trouble ever since."

It is invaluable in the Kitchen—the Laundry—the Bath Room—the Nursery—for Cleansing the Hair—for Exterminating Ants and Cockroaches—for a Mouth Wash—and for a hundred other purposes.

The main question is to be sure it is PURE. To test Borax for soda (a common adulterant) add a few drops of strong vinegar—if the powder foams or effervesces it is not pure. We offer you PURE BORAX in packages, with a book on its various uses.

EWEN'S HOTEL BURNED

Arson to Intimidate Witnesses in Jackson, Ky., Murder Trial.

FEARS FOR LIFE AND PROPERTY

Openly Predicted that Arson and Assassination Would Be Committed—It Is Now Believed Jett and White Will Be Acquitted.

Jackson, Ky., June 15.—The City Hotel, a three-story building, owned by Captain B. J. Ewen, the principal witness against Jettt and White, now on trial for the assassination of J. B. Marcum, has been burned to the ground. Fifteen guests were in the hotel, but all escaped without injury. There was no insurance on the structure, and the hotel, with its furnishings and the effects of the guests, is a total loss. The loss is placed at $50,000. They represented the savings of a lifetime, and Ewen is homeless and dependent on the hospitality of the troops.

The burning of the hotel is not only considered as incendiary, but also as accessory to other acts of intimidation in connection with the trial. It has openly been predicted that arson would go along with assassination as disciplinary measures might be needed in Breathitt county. It is now stated that other witnesses for the commonwealth are not property owners, but that the jurors, who are farmers, and witnesses who could not be found when detachments of troops were trying to bring them into court, are property owners. The burning of Ewen's hotel has not only caused renewed fear for both life and property, but also has increased the general doubt of conviction of either of the prisoners.

Captain B. J. Ewen was the chief witness for the prosecution in the pending trials of Curtis Jett and Thomas White. He testified that he saw Jett as he advanced pistol in hand to fire the last shot into Marcum's prostrate body, as it lay in the court house doorway. Through fears for his own safety he testified that he did not dare to allow Sheriff Callahan and County Judge Hargis to know what he had seen When it did become known he was at first a prisoner in his own home, when he fled to the country until he could have the protection of troops. His house had been under the guard of soldiers for several weeks, and as a more stringent precaution against assassination he slept in camp at the provost marshal's headquarters.

Several days ago a man visited him at his home and made him a proposition that if he would repudiate what he had related on the witness stand, saying that he testified to what was not true because of the excitement which he was under, he would be given $5,000 by a certain prominent citizen, and that if he did not accept this offer he would be assassinated. He encouraged his visitor to return in the afternoon and stationed two witnesses in a closet, who overheard a repetition of the proposition and the threat, which was accompanied by the tender of five $1,000 notes. No one has doubted that Ewen was in actual danger, but few were prepared for a step so desperate as that which came in the burning of his hotel, and it is believed generally that the incendiary fire was due to the statement made to State Inspector Hines about the attempted bribery, as well as to Ewen's testimony.

Three men reported having seen Joe Crawford and Ed Thah, wagoners for the Hargis Brothers, come across the bridge and return just before the blaze was discovered, and Major Allen ordered these men arrested. They were taken into the military camp by the soldiers and manacled in the guard house. Later they were taken before Judge Redwine and held in $2,000 bail. The bonds not being procured, they were locked up in the military guard house.

No Auto For Miss Alice.

Washington, June 15.—The mystery surrounding Miss Alice Roosevelt's automobile has been cleared away to some extent. It was expected that she would close the bargain for the automobile, ordered for her several weeks ago before she left Washington, but tears and entreaties were of no avail with the president, who is wedded to horseflesh, and the machine was not accepted. Miss Roosevelt left for Boston to visit her grandmother, Mrs. George Lee, and to attend the commencement exercises of Harvard. Her one hope now is that her indulgent grandparents will be cajoled into buying the machine for her.

THE BALTIMORE SAENGERFEST

Opening Concert Attended by Over 16,000 Persons.

Baltimore, June 15. — The formal opening of the 20th triennial saengerfest of the Northeastern Saengerbund of America took place here yesterday afternoon with a "Reception Concert" in the Fifth Armory Hall. The seating capacity of the auditorium of this immense structure is 16,000, and the entire space was occupied, there being 5000 singers on the stage and 11000 persons seated on the floor. The singing was participated in by 2500 Baltimore singers and 2500 school children, and the numbers were arranged especially in honor of flag day, yesterday being the 129th anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes by the American congress. Professor Melamet led the orchestra of 135 pieces, the largest ever heard in Baltimore.

A number of singing societies from other cities have arrived to participate in the grand prize concerts. Thousands of visitors are already here, and it is estimated that there will be an average of 40,000 men here until the end of the saengerfest.

Among the distinguished guests who will be present tonight are included President Roosevelt, the German ambassador, Baron von Sternburg, and suite; the Prussian minister of finance, Baron von Rheinbaben, and suite; Governor John Walter Smith and staff.

Newark, N. J., has been selected for the next saengerfest of the Northeastern Saengerbund.

A FEAST OF ROSES.

Manheim, Pa., Church Pays One Red Rose for Annual Rental.

Lancaster, Pa., June 15.—Rain interfered somewhat with the annual feast of roses at Manheim, this county. Nevertheless a great crowd witnessed the quaint and beautiful ceremony of the payment of one red rose by the congregation of Zion Lutheran Church to the heirs of Baron Henry William Stiegel, the founder of Manheim, who in 1770 deeded to he congregtion the land on which their church stands, with the stipulation that they pay "in the month of June, yearly, forever hereafter, the rent of one red rose, if the same shall be lawfully demanded." Twice, in 1773 and 1774, Baron Stiegel demanded the rose, and the custom then fell into disuse, and was not revived until 11 years ago. Yesterday the rose was demanded by Mrs. Ida Boyer, of Norristown, Pa., a lineal descendant of the baron, and was paid by Rev. Dr. Jacob Yutzey, of Selins Grove, on behalf of the congregation.

Probing New York Postoffice.

New York, June 12.—Four additional postoffice inspectors have arrived here from the west to assist in the investigations of the New York postoffice, and 48 men now filling places in the general postoffice as superintendents were informed by the first assistant postmaster general, through a letter to Postmaster Van Cott, that they would in all probability have to be reduced to the grade of a common clerk, and in addition have their pay cut $250 to $1,000 per year each.

AN IMMENSE LANDSLIDE

Side of Mountain Caved In On Southern Railway Tracks.

Asheville, N. C., June 13.—The side of a mountain has caved in on the Southern Railroad tracks between Spartansburg and Asheville. Thousands of tons of rock and dirt plunged downward, completely filling one of the largest railroad cuts in the mountains of Western North Carolina and effectually shutting off all traffic from the south. The landslide occurred near Tryon, N. C., just at the foot of Saluda mountain. The road had just succeeded in resuming operations of trains, which were blocked by washouts in Spartansburg county last week.

The present disaster will cause annulment of all trains on this road for at least seven days, as authorities say that it will be impossible to clear the track before that time. It is stated that there is another crack in the mountain just in the rear of the cliff from which the avalanche descended, and it is predicted that another tumble of earth and rock will occur, in which case railroad people say that it will be at least 12 days before the running of through trains can be resumed.

Powder Explosion Kills Two.

Tamaqua, Pa., June 13.—Two men are dead, one is missing and several are injured as the result of the explosion of a large quantity of powder in the drying house of the Weldy Power Company, near Mintzers. The cause of the explosion is not known. The shock was so great that many panes of glass in the houses in this city were broken and buildings trembled as though shaken by an earthquake.

Houseboat Capsized.

Clarendon, Ark., June 13.—Seven persons were drowned at Aberdeen, 12 miles below here, on White river by the capsizing of a houseboat. The victims were W. B. Moneymaker and wife; J. McLark and wife, and two boys and a girl. The people were engaged in gathering mussel shells.

VICTORY FOR COAL ROADS

They Not Show Contracts to Interstate Commission.

ONE EXCEPTION AGAINST BAER

Judge Lacombe Holds He Should Have Answered Question of General Expense of Reading System—Hearing Before Commission Adjourned.

New, York, June 13.—Judge Lacombe, in the United States circuit court has handed down a decision upholding the contention of the coal carrying railroads that contracts between them and sales agents are privileged documents and as such the interstate commerce commission has no power to compel their production as evidence.

The decision also upholds the refusal of George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company, and other witnesses to answer questions relating to the conduct of their business.

Judge Lacombe makes only one exception. He holds that Mr. Baer should have answered one question which was put to him regarding details of general expense. Judge Lacombe says documents had already been introduced in evidence containing items such as were asked for; therefore, Mr. Baer erred in not answering that particular question.

In his decision Judge Lacombe says the interstate commerce commission has the right to compel the production for its inspection of any contracts which refer wholly to the transportation of coal. He says, however, that he has carefully inspected copies of the contracts which the commission had asked for, and which were furnished to him for that purpose by the attorneys for the defendant corporations, and finds that they are contracts for the purchase of coal in Pennsylvania, and which are carried out by the delivery of coal to breakers in that state.

The matter came before Judge Lacombe in a petition presented by United States Attorney Burnett, signed by the interstate commerce commission, asking that the officials of the several railroads be declared in contempt for refusing to produce documents and to answer questions which counsel said were necessary to prove the existence of an illegal combine.

Clarence J. Shearn, representing the plaintiff, concluded his side of the case against the coal carrying railroads accused of violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

Since the hearing was begun before the interstate commerce commission 54 witnesses have been examined. The attorneys for the accused railroad companies will require at least 30 days in which to present evidence in refutation of the accusation, and when the commission adjourned the hearing it was until late in the summer.

The decision of Judge Lacombe was announced to the commission and the attorneys. Both sides were greatly surprised, the attorneys for the railroads pleasedly so. Soon afterward Mr. Shearn closed the case for the petitioner, and the hearing was adjourned without date. Testimony on behalf of the railroads will be heard by the commission some time in July.

Defended Her Honor With Her Life.

Altoona, Pa., June 13.—The almost lifeless body of Mrs. Annie Canavan, aged 40, was found in a strawberry patch near her home at Kersey, Elk county, mutilated almost beyond recognition. She had been beaten with a pine knot found hearby. The woman died a short time afterwards. The murderer escaped, leaving no clue. He is believed to have been a tramp, who attacked the woman while she was picking berries. Evidence of a violent struggle were to be found, showing that the woman defended her honor with her life. She leaves a husband and several children.

THE ACADEMY RECEPTION

A Brilliant Social Function Marks Close of School Year.

An event which is looked forward to with great interest each year is the annual reception and tea which marks the close of the school year at the Bellefonte Academy. The seventh annual event of this kind took place at the Academy Friday evening and as years gone by proved a most pleasing and enjoyable social function.

The reception lasted from 8 until 10 o'clock and several hundred guests enjoyed the festivities of the occasion. The students and their parents, members of the alumni and friends and patrons of the institution were among the number present.

The decorations were unusually elaborate and beautiful. The grounds were illuminated with several hundred Japanese lanterns and the porch and reception rooms were handsomely adorned with bunting, laurel, potted plants and flowers placed in different nooks and corners and the scene presented was one not soon to be forgotten by those so fortunate as to be in attendance.

On the arrival of the guests they were met by a committee composed of the following young men who acted as ushers: Jas. Pratt, of Unionville; Philip Weaver, of Bellefonte; Roy McCandlass, of Butler and Herbert McIntosh, of Pittsburg. They were then received by Rev. James P. Hughes and his son, James R. Hughes who conducted them to the reception committee composed of the following ladies: Mrs. James R. Hughes, Miss Helen E. Overton and Miss Isabelle S. Hill.

The balance of the evening was spent in the enjoyment of the music furnished by Smith's orchestra, social conversation and the partaking of choice refreshments daintily served by a committee of young ladies.

The work of getting up the reception was divided among several different committees under the supervision of Prof. James R. Hughes, and we congratulate them on the splendid success which crowned their efforts.

Immediately after the reception the students gave a dance in the armory. The music was furnished by the Stopper & Fiske orchestra of Williamsport.

The patronesses were Mesdames Reeder, Spangler, Montgomery, Dale, Burnett, Munson and Miss Alice Wilson. The committee in charge included Wilson Gephart, G. C. Harris, W. H. Montgomery, M. A. Mitchell and Elliott Vandeventer.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. THE TRAGEDY IN SERVIA

Participants Tell How the King and Queen Were Killed.

BURIED IN HASTE AT NIGHT

Intelligent Classes Favor Abolition of Servian Monarchy and the Creation of a Republic—Prince Peter Horrified at Crime.

Belgrade, June 13.—The assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, the latter's two brothers, the Servian premier, minister of war and former minister of war, perpetrated by a band of officers, and the proclamation by the army of Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, the pretender to the throne, as king of Servia, has apparently been accepted by the capital and the Servian people without a murmur.

The only new element in the situation is a feeling among the intelligent classes in favor of the abolition of a Servian monarchy altogether and the creation of a republic, and this sentiment is shared by at least one member of the provisional government. Differences of opinion on this point developed at a meeting of the cabinet, when the new foreign minister, Ljubonir Kallevics, expressed his leanings in favor of the establishment of a republican form of government. The majority of the ministers, however, declared themselves in favor of a new king in Prince Peter Karageorgevitch. They strengthened their declaration by the strong argument that it was certain that Austria and Russia would not countenance the creation of a republic. This is the view generally shared by the politicians.

The remains of the ill-fated king and queen were buried almost stealthily during the night in the chapel of St. Mark, where the members of the Obrenovitch family are interred.

Story of the Tragedy.

The following is a narrative of the revolution, given by men who took an active part in it:

Army officers to the number of 90, having formed a project of a revolt, among them being delegates from almost every garrison in Servia, and the majority of the officers of the Sixth regiment, Lieutenant Colonel Mitschitsch invited his comrades on Wednesday evening at 11 o'clock to meet in the Kaligmagdan Garden, and there the immediate carrying out of the intended deed was organized.

At 1.40 a. m. the officers, in eight groups, went to the Konak, the royal palace. Each man had a cue and especial directions regarding his part in the revolution. Two officers of the high military academy appeared at the appointed hour, 2 a. m., at the gate of the Konak, where the king's adjutant, Panajotovic, who was in the conspiracy, handed them the keys to the garden gate, which is always kept locked. First, stopping before the guard at the Konak, one of the two officers called: "Throw down your arms." A fight ensued, with shooting on both sides, in which several persons were wounded. Hurrying upstairs to the first floor, the revolting officers attracted the attention of the palace attendants and the royal couple by the noise of the shooting. Lieutenant Lavar Petrovitch, alarmed by the unwonted hubbub, hurried forward, a drawn revolver in one hand and in the other a sword.

"What do you want?" he cried.

"Show us where the king and queen are," came the reply.

"Back," cried Petrovitch, and at the same moment a ball stretched him on the ground.

The revolutionaries pressed forward, when suddenly the electric light gave out. All stood in darkness. In the greatest excitement and feeling their way, the revolutionaries climbed the stairs and got into the dark anteroom to the king's apartment. Here they found candles and lit them. Without light, they could not have found their victims, who fled from their sleeping apartment through corridors and numerous rooms, and might have escaped, but part of the officers with burning candles and others with pistols, commenced to search for the royal couple.

King and Queen Shot Down.

At last Queen Draga's servant was found. He wounded Captain Dimitrevic severely, but was spared because he was needed in finding the fleeing couple. Indeed, this servant showed the officers where King Alexander and Queen Draga had gone to secrete themselves. When he had told this he was shot. Colonel Maschin now joined the revolutionists and led them back to the sleeping apartment, where the king's adjutant tried to hinder the search. He shot at Lieutenant Naumovics, who fell dead. The others killed the adjutant. After a long search a small door leading to an alcove was discovered, but was found locked. It was broken in with an axe, and here the royal couple were found in undress. The older officers first intended forcing the king to abdicate, but the young officers were in no mood to be held back, and shot the royal couple. Nobody knows in the excitement who shot first, but it is generally said it was Lieutenant Kistics.

After the murder, King Alexander's body was found entirely covered with blood. That of Queen Draga was badly torn by bullets.

Almost simultaneously with the butchery in the palace the troops endeavored to arrest all the relatives of the queen and those ministers whom the conspirators disliked. Two brothers of the queen, Lieutenant Colonels Nikola and Nikodern Lunjevics, were seized and escorted by a detachment of troops from their dwelling to the guard room of the divisional commander. They were evidently not suspicious of their doom, and were lighting cigarettes when they were shot dead by eight soldiers.

General Zinzar Markovics, the premier; General Pavlovics, minister of war, and M. Tudorovics, minister of the interior, were shot by the troops as they attempted to defend themselves from arrest. The former two were killed, while Minister Tudorovics is just alive.

Victims Exposed to Public Gaze.

Shortly after midnight the bodies of the dead king and queen were carried to their last resting place. It was a pitiful sight. All day long the victims were reposing in rough coffins, and had lain exposed to the gaze of those who had killed them and to the privileged curious. There have been unpleasant evidences of the public resentment against the late royal couple. Some persons even spat on the remains.

The bodies of the victims were conveyed to the Belgrade cemetery in hearses, and all were buried simultaneously. The burial services were brief, only two priests being present. Not a single friend or relative of the dead king and queen was present. The remains of the royal pair were interred in a vault in the cemetery chapel. Two wooden crosses alone denoted the spot, marked "Alexander Obrenovics" and "Drajinga Obrenovics." The other bodies lie outside in the cemetery in rough graves.

The sisters and nieces of the late queen, who had been arrested by the military authorities, were expelled from the country. Late at night her sisters were permitted to take a farewell look at the dead queen's remains. They were subsequently conveyed by the police on board a Servian ship, which brought them down to Pancsova. They were lucky to escape with their lives.

The autopsy held has proved that the late king received 30 shot wounds, many of them deadly. Queen Draga had numerous shot and sabre wounds, and it is alleged that her body was torn in a barbarous fashion. The appearance of the royal apartments is indescribable. The doors and floors are shattered and the ruins drenched with blood.

There has been no sign of mourning, but it is not certain that every section of the public will quietly acquiesce in the revolution, and the tension will continue until Peter Karageorgevitch's ascension has been recognized.

Joyful demoistrations were indulged in by the populace throughout the day and business has not been disturbed.

NEW KING SURPRISED

Took No Part In Planning Bloody Bloody Tragedy at Belgrade.

Geneva, June 13. — Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, the newly proclaimed king of Servia, gave an interview in which he repeated his disclaimer of any complicity, direct or indirect, in the assassinations of King Alexander and Queen Draga. He expressed his destation of the crime, and gave a brief outline of his own political tendencies. Prince Peter said:

PETER KARAGEORGEVITCH.

"It is true my partisans have a complete organization in Servia, with which I am in frequent communication. I knew from other sources that the discontent of the Servian people had reached its height, but I could not possibly have foreseen the events of the other night. I in no way contributed to their preparation, and I took no part, direct or indirect, in them. On the contrary, their perpetration surprised me. Several papers have a tendency to implicate me in acts which were not mine.

"I was first informed of the royal tragedy enacted at Belgrade by a telegram received from a cousin of mine in Vienna the following morning. Later a Montenegrin friend confirmed the news, which till then I had regarded as quite unofficial.

"I have received numerous messages of congratulation, but that is all. I calmly await the trend of events. So long as no formal proposals reach me I have no reason to leave Geneva, and I will remain here. No one has yet asked me to return to Servia. No one has yet offered me the crown. I am even without news of the members of my family who reside in Belgrade.

"My opinion of the execution of the king and queen of Servia is this: I deeply regret that it has been thought necessary to shed streams of blood. I formally disapprove of the violent measures, and I especially deplore the fact that the army has had recourse to such measures—an army has nobler tasks to accomplish than assassination. It would have sufficed to force King Alexander to sign his abdication. He could have been bound as has been done in other circumstances. It is a horrible thing to shed blood."

THE STREET CARNIVAL.

Undine Fire Company Preparing for a Big Time.

The Undine Fire Company have engaged an entirely new and novel attraction for the people of Centre county, consisting of a fair and carnival held on the public thoroughfares of this town, giving a continuous show day and evening for one week. It will be a reproduction of the famous Midway Plaisance the unique attraction of the World's Fair at Chicago, but on smaller scale. It will be a collection of novelties, about a dozen different and distinct attractions, each in an individual tent containing something of unusual interest or special amusement. Among them will be:

The Beautiful Orient—A collection of natives from Asia in their quaint garbs.

Amusements —Shooting gallery, cane racks, bead workers, fortune tellers, magic, etc

Japanese Theatre:—Native actors and agile acrobats, who are artists in their line.

Electric Theatre:—Showing all the remarkable electric inventions of modern times, illustrating how man has harnessed this subtile force to do his bidding.

For Ladies:—A special attraction for the fair sex, to which no man will be admitted.

22 Illusions:—All are of great beauty and mystifying, a place that furnishes pleasure and instruction.

Balloon Ascension:—Is promised fo every day, in which there will be the customary parachute drop.

These are only a few of the leading features. It would require a column to enumerate other equally meritorious attractions.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver Ills, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache. Easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.

An Act to Prevent Cruelty to Animals.

For the benefit of these persons who find great amusement in abusing animals. The following is the full text of the new act, which was adopted on April 24th.

'Every person who shall willfully and maliciously kill, maim, or disfigure any horses, cattle, dogs, or other domestic animals of another person, or shall maliciously administer poison to any such beasts or expose any poisonous substance with the intent that the same should be taken or swallowed by them, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and being there—of convicted shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $500.-00, and to undergo an imprisonment by separate or solitary confinement at labor not exceeding three years or both at the discretion of the court, provided that the provisions of this act shall not appeal to the killing of any animal taken or found in the act of actually destroying any other animal."

From the fact that Bellefonte does not claim an active society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, it would be wise for all persons interested in this cause, to remember this law and remind the many heartless and cruel individuals who derive great pleasure in abusing animals. This malicious cruelty seems to be increasing in our community, not only are children permitted to torture innocent cats and dogs, but men of supposed intelligence are seen daily in some atrocious act by causing pain to the poor creatures who are powerless to defend themselves, and until a thoroughly organized society for the prevention of cruelty to animals is with us, let each and all take measures for the banishment of this crime.

Richards—Martin.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Martin, Martha, Pa., at 6 o'clock in the evening of June 10, the words were spoken by Rev. A. C. Lathrop, which made Miss Elizabeth D. Martin the wife of Mr. William H. Richards of Julian. The festive occasion was a delightful one. Ferns, laurel and roses appropriately decorated the walls and furnishings of the house. The bride wore a pretty blue travelling suit, and was assisted by Miss Rhoda Dillen of Julian who acted as bridesmaid. The groom was dressed as is usual on such occasions and was assisted by Mr. Joseph Williams, of Martha, as best man. After congratulations the sumptuous wedding supper was served and appreciated by all. The presents received were useful and valuable. Mr. and Mrs. Richards departed later in the evening for the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milligan Richards of Julian, where they were given a reception. The expect to reside for the present at Julian.

A New Feeder For The Beech Creek.

A Clearfield dispatch says a nine mile extension was added to the Beech Creek line this week by the purchased of the Hooverhurst & Southwestern line. This road has heretofore been operated shipping lumber from the operations of N. L. Hoover. The road was purchased by ex Congressman Kerr, for the advancement of the Beech Creek Coal and Coke company's interests, and in reorganizing under the change of ownership the following officers were elected: James Kerr, president; A. E. Patton, treasurer; A. G. Palmer, Albert B. Kerr, G. C Schultz, A. E. Patton, N. L. Hoover, J. W. Gephart, directors.

The Hooverhurst road is nine miles long and is to be extended promptly to 12 miles, making Nashville, Indian county, the western terminus. It will be one of the developers of the new Indiana county coal fields, and at its western terminus will be within five miles of the Indiana branch of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg. The Beech Creek Coal and Coke company of which Mr. Kerr is president has been operating very largely at Patton, Cambria county, and rather recently has acquired large holdings in the Indiana field, which created the usefulness of the road as a coal territory developer and as an adjunct to the Beech Creek company's operations. Five mines are already opened on the road and along the line of the proposed extension.

A New Industry at Milesburg.

Patents were issued to L. C Bullock, jr, Milesburg in May for "Solid Comfort" combination porch swings and roller chairs, a wonderful invention that covers the whole ground for the purposes intended. The porch swing, in a minute, can be changed by a child to a hammock, crib, push cart, rolling and invalid's chair. A lawn swing for two or four persons. The new firm is preparing to meet a rush of orders. Letters of inquiry requests for agencies, orders for swings, etc., have come by mail from Pittsburg, Buffalo, Wilkesbarre, New York and Philadelphia within the past few days. The home trade, taken as a criterion, shows that Mr. Bullock's inventions fill the bill for a necessity, as well as a luxury —65 having already been sold in Bellefonte and the manufacturers have glowing testimonials from bankers, lawyers, ministers, and business men.

G. R. Spigelmyer, of "Racket Store" fame having purchased a half interest in the business, will look after the financial end of the string. Office in his China Store, 7 Crider's Exchange.

Jumped From a Car Window.

Last week a strange individual appeared in Lock Haven and secured board with Peter Meitzler. He was engaged in selling shirt waist pins and when the time came to leave the city, according to Mr. Meitzler's story, he skipped his board bill and went to Altoona. Chief police Lannen of Lock Haven, went to the railroad city and secured his man.

He was on his way back with his prisoner Friday night, but when they reached Milesburg the stranger made good his escape. While the train was standing there the stranger asked permission to go to the lavatory. While the chief was waiting for his return the stranger crawled out of the window and struck through the fields for the Ridges. The chief gave chase but the stranger had too much of a handicap and thus he freed himself.

Life.

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

Chicken Thief Caught.

For some time past Mrs. R. J. Mann, who lives near Romola, has been missing quite a number of her half-grown chickens, and not until last Friday evening was the thief caught. About dark the daughter, while driving the cows into the barnyard to milk them, discovered a large blacksnake laying coiled up at the bars. The alarm was given and Mr Mann procured a lantern and a gig, proceeded to the spot, and to his surprise found the snake. He at once killed it and when he stretched it out, discovered the length to be six feet and five inches. The funniest part about it was that the snake had in its mouth one of Mrs. Mann's half-grown chickens. Robert says that they have not missed any chickens since the thief was caught.—Howard Hustler.
